SUBJECT: SUMMARY OF TERRORIST AND SIGNIFICANT SECURITY INCIDENTS IN ALGERIA, OCTOBER 2009

REFS: Algiers 01006 and previous

11. (SBU) INTRODUCTION: This cable is a summary of major terrorist incidents and threats as well as significant security-related incidents (including criminal activities and civil disturbances) for Algeria during the month of October 2009. The information was obtained from open sources, news reports, and RSO police contacts. Press-based information should not be taken as exact or definitive but can be used to track countrywide patterns and trends. Reported activities are maintained in a master database utilized by the RSO in formulating post policy guidelines related to life safety and travel within Algeria. Please note that Algerian media frequently still refer to al-Qa'ida in the Islamic Maghreb (AQIM) by its previous name, the Salafist Group for Preaching and Combat (GSPC). End introduction.

12. (U) Terrorist-specific trends: During the month of October 2009, there was a slight increase in terrorist activity as compared to September 2009. With seven security forces killed (to include police, military and gendarmerie) and 30 injured in 47 reported attacks/confrontations between security forces and terrorist elements throughout the country, Algerian security forces encountered ten additional attacks and two additional security force deaths compared to the month of September (see reftel).

The deadliest attack in the month of October occurred in the Kabylie region (64 miles east of Algiers) in the municipality of Maatka, 16 miles south of Tizi Ouzou. An unidentified group of terrorists set up an ambush on a road linking the two localities of Souk-el-Etnine and Mechtras. This connector road is used by the Canadian company SNC-Lavalin to caravan to and from its water pipe project site. Local security forces were on their way to pick up the Canadian engineers on October 22, 2009, when the van was overwhelmed by heavy arms fire. Seven local security guards were immediately killed and the driver died several days later in the hospital from injuries sustained in the attack. No Canadians were killed or injured in this attack.

13. (U) Combined military forces conducted 15 successful, large-scale counter-terrorism operations in the Kabylie regions of Constantine, Tizi Ouzou, Boumerdes, and Bouira during the month of October. In addition, sweeping counter-terrorism operations were conducted in the mountainous areas of Jijel, M'Sila, Medea, and Setif, as well as the desert regions of Ghardaia, Bechar, and el-Bayadh. These operations resulted in 108 arrests and 65 deaths of suspected terrorists.

14. (U) Nineteen bombs, ten of which were defused prior to detonation, were reported in the month of October, resulting in two deaths (one military officer, one communal guard) and eight seriously injured (four military officers, three gendarmes, and one civilian).

15. (U) Civil Unrest/Riots: While riots over poor living and road conditions were reported in Annaba and Tizi Ouzou (some of which were connected to student and teacher strikes going on during much of October), the most noteworthy riot in the month of October occurred in Algiers. On October 19th, hundreds of protesters refused to vacate a shantytown area in Diar Echems after being repeatedly warned by police. Poor Algerians had illegally built temporary housing in this area of the city due to the lack of available public and/or affordable housing in Algiers. Protestors reportedly erected roadblocks and, when confronted by security forces, aggressively attacked riot police with bricks, stones, and molotov cocktails. Police in riot gear responded with tear gas and extensive arrests in an attempt to quell the outbreak. Battles were reportedly intense with some inhabitants throwing stones, furniture, appliances, and other heavy objects down on police. The number of rioters was never confirmed but reportedly grew into the hundreds. The rioters also represented a multi-generational effort, with parents, grandparents, and children protesting poor housing conditions together. Police succeeded in dispersing the riot after three full days of protest activity.

Monthly statistics are as follows:

Bombings: 19 (10 bombs defused prior to explosion)

Civilian deaths: 9

Security forces killed: 7

Kidnappings: 6

Terrorists killed: 65

Terrorists arrested: 108
